Iohexol, which is a nonionic x-ray contrast medium with negligible protein binding, is a contrast medium that is especially useful in patients with renal dysfunction. The primary pharmacokinetic and pharmacodynamic parameters of iohexol were determined in healthy human volunteers. In a single-dose study, iohexol was administered to seven healthy men in doses of 50, 100, and 150 mg I/kg intravenously over 2 to 3 min. Plasma concentrations of iohexol were determined by a modified microbiological assay. Iopamidol clearance was determined from plasma concentration-time profiles of iohexol and iohexol excretion in urine. Iohexol was eliminated more slowly from the plasma than iopamidol. Iohexol clearance, total body clearance, and the steady-state volume of distribution were slightly greater for the 50-mg-iodine-injection dose than for the 100- and 150-mg-iodine-injection doses. Elimination half-life ($t_{1/2}$ beta) and plasma concentrations of iohexol following the 150-mg-iodine-injection dose were 5.3 +/- 1.2 h and 23.7 +/- 7.3 mg/L, respectively. Iohexol renal clearance was 0.047 L/min, and renal extraction efficiency was 0.061. Iohexol was well tolerated. Renal excretion was the primary pathway of iohexol elimination in the doses studied. The half-life of iohexol is somewhat longer than that of iopamidol. The high renal clearance and renal extraction efficiency should make iohexol less nephrotoxic than iopamidol.Q: JS - remove self-closing tags inside function I am trying to parse some HTML from a string and filter out all the self-closing tags. I want to make sure that all the tags were closed, so I'm trying to check if the new element separated, A flurry of notes and thoughts going back and forth, Nothing can bring them back together. What will happen now? Yemaya was saddened to see the beautiful princess in distress. She went to her mother and said, "Mami, I met a white man who is very handsome. He is a prince from a far away kingdom. And yet, he is so afraid of me. I really do not understand his reasons. Is he perhaps the one who took your other daughter? I hope we can still reunite her with him." Mami's heart was broken by her first daughter's words. I will have to see about that. "If you really love your daughter so much, then we will return to see. If not, we will have to forget about it. You are indeed a white man. Maybe I should sleep with you to send you away. My daughter would be happy. But my husband would not like it." "Yes, I understand. I am a white man. But please sleep with me one more time. Then I will leave your daughter alone. My husband is away on business. I will return your daughter to you." The princess replied, "Okay. I will sleep with you once more. But you must promise that you will take me away from here as soon as you are done." "Yes, I promise. Just please, do not take my hand. I do not want to touch you any longer. It feels dirty now that you have touched me." The princess woke up in the white man's bed. She looked at the white man who was sleeping beside her. How long did he sleep?Struct 2d92ce491b
