introduced in 1999Jassy Jassy () is the capital of the province of Constanța, Romania, with a population of 86,235. It has been the capital of all of the Moldavian Principalities and of the Principality of Moldavia, as well as of the Kingdom of Romania. It is the second largest city in the country by population and the eleventh most populous city of Romania. Name Historically, the name was spelled and Romanianized as Kishinev (Кишинев or Cișinev), with the current spelling adopted in 1929. Kishinev came to the Romanian language from Russian language. It is derived from the name of the city of Kishinev (Кишинев), which was originally named "МЫШТЫ" (Myshti), and was in turn derived from the Ukrainian-Slavic language word Mys, and the word khishyn meaning empty or waste. History The city has been inhabited since the prehistory, but the present-day city was founded by the Pechenegs during the late 10th century AD. According to the 1933 population census by the Romanian authorities, the city had 45,063 inhabitants, of whom 91.3% were ethnic Romanian, 3.5% Jewish, and 2.8% were Romanians of other ethnic groups. A large number of the city's residents, at that time, were Jews. The Jewish community grew to 104,000 by 1933. According to the 2002 census, the population included 75,934 Romanian, 5,211 Jewish and 1,563 Moldovan people. The city was the capital of the Roman Principality of Moldavia (1081–1359), of the Moldavia Principality, and of the Moldavia united principality (1359–1775), and of the Moldavian Principality, and of the Moldavian–Wallachian Principality (1775
