To evaluate the risk factors for a relapse in ankylosing spondylitis (AS), 40 patients with AS with active disease and at least one exacerbation in the previous 6 months and who completed a 6-month follow-up were included in the study. A control group of 34 healthy subjects was included in the study. Four main diagnostic criteria for AS were used: modified New York, Danish, Amor and the Modified New York criteria. Patients were evaluated according to the presence of specific features, X-rays and Magnetic Resonance Imaging. Bath ankylosing spondylitis functional index (BASFI) was used to evaluate the physical function of the patients. The relapse of AS was defined as an increase in at least two points in the Bath AS Functional Index, at the end of 6 months of follow-up. Physical exercise was found to be a risk factor for a relapse in AS patients. Patients with multiple risk factors, as those with a BASFI of 5 or more, poor spinal mobility or joint damage, and radiographic changes, had a greater risk of relapse (pEmancipation Proclamation The Great Emancipation Proclamation of President Abraham Lincoln was a proclamation issued on January 1, 1863, by which Union General Ulysses S. Grant ended slavery in the Confederate states of the American Civil War. The document abolished slavery in all areas under Union military control and left all residents in remaining Confederate states the same status as at the start of the war.
